FLYING J TO SEEK BUYERS FOR PIPELINE ASSETS

Ogden, UT, February 4, 2009 – Flying J Inc. (“Flying J”) announced today its plan to seek a buyer for the assets of Longhorn Pipeline Holdings, LLC and its subsidiaries (“Longhorn Pipeline”). Longhorn Pipeline Holdings, LLC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Flying J.

Longhorn Pipeline, whose primary asset is its common carrier refined products pipeline, transports gasoline and diesel refined products from the U.S. Gulf Coast’s refining center in Houston, Texas to Crane and El Paso, Texas. It was placed in service in 2005, making it one of the most recent products pipelines to come into service in the U.S. Longhorn Pipeline has recently operated at or near its current throughput capacity of 72,000 barrels per day. Further, its 18” diameter pipe will permit a maximum design capacity in excess of 200,000 barrels per day.

On December 22, 2008, driven by the recent precipitous decline in oil prices coupled with the disruption in the credit markets, Flying J and certain of its subsidiaries, including Longhorn Pipeline Holdings, LLC, filed voluntary petitions to reorganize under chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court in Delaware. As part of its efforts to maximize value for creditors, Flying J is pursuing the potential sale of Longhorn Pipeline.

Aegis Energy Advisors Corp. and The Blackstone Group have been selected to assist Longhorn Pipeline with the potential sale. Qualified parties interested in obtaining information regarding this acquisition opportunity should contact the following individuals:
